

NEWS OF THE STATE

New Canning Factory to Be Established at Syracuse.

STABBING AT JOSEPH CITY

ONE OF THE VICTIMS IN A SERIOUS CONDITION.

Carter Lodged in Jail at Richmond—Flag Presentations at Gunnison—Celebrations at Provo, Brigham and Other Towns—Boy Buried Under a Sand-Bank.

(From The Herald's Correspondent.)
Syracuse, Feb. 22.—A number of the public-spirited citizens of this place have taken up the question of a canning factory, and an organization, to be known as the Syracuse Canning company, has been effected, with James T. Walker, president and director; W. J. Parker, vice president and director; David B. Cook, director; W. H. Beaser, director; James Walker, secretary and treasurer. The articles of incorporation have not yet been drawn up, the details of the organization not having been arranged, but sufficient stock has already been subscribed to justify the company in going ahead with the enterprise. It is the intention to make the company truly a co-operative concern, and the plan proposed is to limit the stock each individual can hold to two shares, which will be valued at $100 each. The officers named above have each subscribed the stipulated amount, as have also Gilbert Parker, Thomas Ross, David Cook, Joseph Boddy, and David Walker. The company will probably incorporate with $500 capital.

The factory will be erected on the Syracuse branch of the Short Line, and site can be secured, and everything will be ready to handle this year's crop. An agent of the company will commence tomorrow to make contracts for the growing of this variety. It is expected also that an experiment will be made to ascertain the profits of canning peas, peaches and other fruits, which are probably as abundant in Syracuse. Contracts for the necessary machinery will be made as soon as satisfactory prices can be obtained.

PROVO CELEBRATED.

Patriotic Programs Carried Out by B. Y. Academy Students.

Provo, Feb. 22.—Washington's birthday was generally observed throughout the city today. All business was suspended.

At the Brigham Young academy, a programme lasting two hours was rendered in commemoration of the day. The numbers, which were given entirely by students, were of a patriotic character, and the programme was interspersed with music and national songs.

All the residents of the First ward, both young and old, met at the First ward meeting house at 1 o'clock, where they took their dinner. After dinner, the programme was given by prominent members of the ward while the dinner was in progress, and after all had eaten heartily a fine programme was rendered.

This evening a dancing party was given for the married people of the ward. Games were given in other wards of the city and at Southworth's hall this evening.

Three tramps, giving their names as John Eldridge, Tom Clark and Edward Smith, were arrested by Policemen Tucker last evening while in a barn down near the depot. Their case will come before City Justice of the Peace Noun at 10 o'clock tomorrow.

CITY COUNCIL SESSION.

The city council was in regular session this evening. The first order of business was the registering of births and deaths within Provo City was passed, upon an ordinance, and will now become an ordinance. Chairman Clark, representing the city, situated upon the East bench, was elected to the position of recorder.

The question of feeding city prisoners came up, and City Marshal Knight consented to the council that the money was within his jurisdiction and that he had full power to make the necessary arrangements. The council had heretofore been feeding the prisoners at 10 cents per meal, but feeling that this was unprofitable, refused to furnish food any longer at this rate. The marshal has arranged with the sheriff to feed city prisoners hereafter at 15 cents per meal.

VETERANS' REUNION.

Black Hawk Survivors at Fountain Hold a Celebration.

Fountain, Sanpete County, Utah, Feb. 21.—The veterans of the Black Hawk Indian war of 1832-34 and '35, now residing here, have just held their annual reunion. It proved as these reunions always do—a grand success. The society and financially a great success, and the veterans a great success.

Last season the veterans purchased for the 6th of the past a large United States flag, and the veterans of the Black Hawk Indian war of 1832-34 and '35, now residing here, have just held their annual reunion. It proved as these reunions always do—a grand success. The society and financially a great success, and the veterans a great success.

The play was followed by songs, recitations, etc. They joined in a social picnic for 40 minutes, when the hall was cleared for dancing.

It is hoped that the great congress of the veterans will be held in Provo, and that the veterans who have blazed the way to the conquering of the great west and slightly remunerate them for the debt they have incurred in the service of the Indians and the great "Bill 35," presented in the "first session of the Fifty-fifth congress" by Senator Rawlins and Representative King.

A GOLDEN WEDDING.

Grand Celebration in Honor of Nephi Pioneers.

Nephi, Feb. 22.—The fifty-fifth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sperry of this city was celebrated yesterday. For a month or more preparations have been in progress to make it one of the grandest affairs known to the inhabitants of Nephi.

The North ward meeting house was fitted up and decorated in a very handsome manner. The festivities commenced at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and continued until about 1 o'clock in the morning. The programme consisted of a musical entertainment by the ladies of the church, and a lecture by Mr. and Mrs. Sperry, written by his granddaughter, Miss Lillie Black; a recitation, composed by Mr. Bailey, which was very appropriate; recitations, songs, and other recitations by the children of the old pioneers.

At 5 o'clock the guests were invited to seat themselves before tables laden with all the eatables the country could afford. The decorations were of the finest, and showed that none but the hands of artists had been applied in perfecting all arrangements.

SUGAR BEET CROP.

Farmers of Syracuse Do Not Like the Contracts.

Syracuse, Utah, Feb. 22.—The farmers of Syracuse have not as yet taken hold of the matter of raising beets for the Ogden sugar factory with any degree of enthusiasm. There is, in fact, a decided objection to certain provisions of the contracts which are entered into between the growers and the company, and it is freely asserted by the farmers that the company has all the best of the bargain. To this fact is attributed the very meagre acreage in Syracuse and vicinity. One prominent agriculturalist, in speaking of the matter to-day, said that the most objectionable clause in the contract was that delivered after Nov. 30 the sugar company may deduct 50 cents a ton from the regular price. He stated that it sometimes happens that the product cannot be delivered until December, and a deduction of 50 cents a ton would make beet-raising an unprofitable industry, particularly when it is considered that the Ogden factory price is 10 cents less than that paid by the Lehi company.

This section of the country is particularly adapted for the beet industry, and it is hoped that the people will take hold of the matter in earnest, waiving any little differences that may arise, and uniting with the development of the resources of the locality.

It is said that in Hooper, after miles north of here, a very large acreage is being planted in beets, and it is hoped that the people will take hold of the matter in earnest, waiving any little differences that may arise, and uniting with the development of the resources of the locality.

W. O. Lee of Wood's Cross lectured here yesterday in the interest of the Mutual improvement association.

Since the anarchy has been in the fields, the wheat crops planted last fall are looking unusually good, and if spring rains come in proper season there will be a very heavy harvest.

LOGAN LOCALS.

Death of Judge Hart's Child—A Council Caucus.

Logan, Feb. 22.—Washington's birthday is being very quietly observed here. Most of the houses are closed, and but little life is visible in the town.

Outside of the show at the opera house this evening, there will be but little entertainment.

Everything, however, depends upon the amount of precipitation between now and June 1, as a protracted drought might change the present excellent prospects and cause almost a total failure of crops.

Fred Bodily and Miss Miller, two prominent young people here, expect to marry this week. The lady is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Miller.

HOLIDAY AT BRIGHAM.

Young America Honored the Father of His Country.

Brigham, Feb. 22.—Washington's birthday has been extremely fine, as far as weather is concerned. The local boys have been having a grand time, and the dancing was given by them and the fire department at the opera house this evening.

The big band had some competition in the shape of a Grand Band from the land of small boys, with powdered wigs, in true colonial style, who went marching about the streets, beating their drums and waving their flags and banners in honor of the great father of our country. The dance at the opera house, besides being in celebration of the day, is a benefit for John B. F. Wadsworth, Jr., who has been laboring in Alabama and Kentucky as a missionary for almost 27 months.

It is reported that the Huntington roller mill company is contemplating the removal of the mill to Price, which would be a bad thing for the county and the people. It is too bad that this controversy came up, as both parties have lost by it.

LIVE STOCK CONDITIONS.

Sheep Men of Uintah Now Feel Much Better.

Vernal, Utah, Feb. 18.—The weather still continues cold at night, the thermometer getting down toward the zero mark, yet, at times, the days continue with a few sunbeams, and the sheepmen feel much better over the situation. All the sheep are being fed that feed can be secured for. S. B. Benson has his entire herd of 12,000 in feeding. They number 5,500 head.

Richard Fowler came in from White river last night, and reports cattle in a worse condition than ever. Joseph Loring, who is feeding a bunch in the vicinity of Rangely, over in Colorado, stated that there were 25 carcasses lying around his feeding ground.

The effect of the cold weather on the cattle is made manifest by the fact that some instances having their feet frozen, something unusual.

Yesterday Ann Bell, wife of John Bell, formerly of Glenwood, Sevier county, died here of confinement. The deceased was born in Provo, 33 years ago; was married at Glenwood, and later came to this city, where she resided; was president of the Y. M. M. A. of the Fourth ward for eight years. The husband and six children survive her.

A NOVEL WINDMILL.

Milford Machine Raises the Water in Buckets.

Milford, Utah, Feb. 22.—Ramson Garrett, a mechanic of Milford, is working on a windmill and pump combined. He claims the idea of the construction of a windmill so that half will be under the surface of the earth, the upper part standing squarely to the wind. The fans are constructed so as to face the wind, and the pump is in the center, with the power that is in a machine with the fans turned at an angle with the wind. The mill is a ponderous affair, and the construction is a novel one, level with the ground. On the outer edge of the wheel is a rim that turns a few inches in the water and carries a number of water buckets.

ALMOST A PANIC.

Fire Alarm at Salina Emptied the Theatre.

Salina, Feb. 22.—While the Taylor dramatic company were engaged in a performance here last night, the cry of fire was heard, and a great rush for the door was made. The audience being small, no accident occurred. The cause of the alarm was a fire at the residence of Alma S. Gates, caused by a lamp falling on the roof. Although every man left the theatre, a bucket brigade was soon formed, and in less than half an hour the fire was under control. The loss will not exceed $200.

TINTIC CELEBRATIONS.

Appropriate Entertainments at Eureka and Mammoth.

Eureka, Feb. 22.—Today being Washington's birthday, the stars and stripes waved over the business houses, school houses and many private dwelling houses. The school children are singing a well-arranged holiday.

Yesterday at the public school a fine

FIBROID TUMOR

Expelled by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Interview With Mrs. R. A. Lombard.

I have reason to think that I would not be here now if it had not been for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It cured me of a fibroid tumor in my womb.

Doctors could do nothing for me, and they could not cure me at the hospital. I will tell you about it.

I had been in my usual health, but my monthly period came on. I flowed very badly. The doctor gave me medicine, but it did me no good. He said the flow must be stopped if possible, and he must find the cause of my trouble.

Upon examination, he found there was a fibroid tumor in my womb, and gave me treatment without any benefit whatever. About that time a lady called on me, and recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, said she owed her life to it. I said I would try it, and did. Soon after the flow became more natural and regular. I still continued taking the Compound for some time. Then the doctor made an examination again, and found everything all right. The tumor had passed away, and that dull ache was gone.—Mrs. R. A. LOMBARD, Box 71, Westdale, Mass.

programme was presented by the pupils of the high school, and the eighth and seventh grades, of which Mr. Joel Jenifer and Mrs. Mary M. Ryan are the teachers. The programme was given by the pupils in the lower grade.

At Mammoth the day was commemorated by a programme prepared by the pupils of the public school, over which Professor House is supervisor. It was given in Hassel's hall, and a large audience turned out to witness the same.

At Silver City a grand ball was given, at which the Hauerbach orchestra of this place furnished the music. A grand affair was given at the Odd Fellows' hall in this city, this evening, which promises to surpass all previous events of a similar nature.

HUNTINGTON AFFAIRS.

That Scarlet Fever Controversy—Amusement Notes.

Huntington, Utah, Feb. 22.—Concerning the scarlet fever controversy and County Attorney Hobbs' denial, your correspondent desires to state that he received his information from the chairman of the board of county commissioners, and it was published in good faith.

There have been several cases of scarlet fever in this precinct outside of the town limits, and not one case has been quarantined since the new year. On Feb. 18, and I will not allow any or anyone else to disprove the statement. On the 16th the commissioners proceeded to place some parties under arrest.

The choir reunion held on the 19th was a fine success so far as pleasure was concerned. The concert was a notable feature of the proceeds will be sent to the Huntington roller mill company.

Local talent has just rendered the five-act drama, "The Carpenter of Rouen." The proceeds will be sent to the Huntington roller mill company.

It is reported that the Huntington roller mill company is contemplating the removal of the mill to Price, which would be a bad thing for the county and the people. It is too bad that this controversy came up, as both parties have lost by it.

BURY BY SAND.

Boy at Layton Has a Close Call For His Life.

Layton, Feb. 22.—Leonard Green, the 9-year-old son of George W. Green of this place, was playing near a sand bank on Saturday afternoon, when the earth, which he supposed had been loosened by the recent thaw, caved down upon him. He was very seriously injured, his thigh being fractured in such a way that the doctors say he will have to be kept in bed several months. It is almost a miracle that he was not killed outright.

AN UNRELIABLE ALMANAC.

A Contemporary Disseminates Misinformation Concerning Utah.

Vernal, Feb. 22.—The Tribune Almanac, a copy of which fell into the hands of your correspondent yesterday, gives Ashley as the county seat of Uintah county. Vernal is the county seat, and has been for several years. It is asserted that the county seat was moved to Ashley, and the Tribune Almanac, which is a reliable authority, has published such misinformation about our own state. There is nothing but a post-office at Ashley.

A FOOTBALL CASUALTY.

Jesse Strong, of Springfield, Suffers a Dislocated Knee.

Springfield, Utah, Feb. 22.—This afternoon, during the progress of a game of football between the Hungerford academy and the local school team, Jesse Strong was thrown violently to the ground and suffered a dislocation of the knee. Strane is about 15 years of age, and was a member of the Hungerford team.

A Missionary Dying.

Neph, Feb. 22.—Bishop Harrison Sperry and family of the Fourth ward, Salt Lake City, received a message that the son of Bishop Sperry's brother, who is on a mission, was dying.

William Gobke, husband of Sister Mary Fowkes, who died last Thursday, is in a critical condition.

Death of Al Thorne.

Ploche, Nov. Feb. 22.—Al Thorne, an old-timer, aged about 60 years, died in De Lamar yesterday of hemorrhage.

He was an actor and took part in many of the plays at Salt Lake City in early days. He had been in Ploche and De Lamar for 20 years.

Death of Mrs. Stucki.

Washington, Utah, Feb. 17.—The wife of John S. Stucki of Santa Clara died yesterday, of lung trouble, leaving a family of four children, the youngest, the oldest child being but 8 years old.

TOURING IDAHO.

Messrs. Perkins and Breeden On a Lecture Trip.

Ogden, Feb. 22.—Word comes from Cache valley and various towns in Idaho that John N. Perkins and M. A. Breeden, two Ogden gentlemen well known for their standing in the legal profession, and for their services in the legislative halls of Utah, are meeting with great success in their new departure. The old saying about the "big game" in this country is illustrated anew in their case, for so modest and unassuming have the gentlemen been that but few Utahians knew of their departure. They are accompanied by a host of other illustrious Americans, are enjoying a bit of travel, lecturing meanwhile in the country through which they pass. A gentleman who has been in the movement since a lecture is entitled "From ## Ocean to Ocean," is replete with praises of our country, its scenic beauties and resources. It is illustrated by means of stereopticon views, and either of the two can talk or manipulate the slides of the lantern, as occasion requires. Meanwhile substitutes are on duty in the law offices of the lecturers.

PARK CITY SCHOOLS.

Washington's Birthday Programs Rendered By the Pupils.

Park City, Feb. 22.—Washington's birthday was observed this afternoon with appropriate exercises in the lower grades of Washington and Lincoln buildings. At Washington the recitation rooms were thrown together, and a very pretty programme was rendered in charge of the teachers, Miss Loretta Sanborn, Miss Carrie Harrison and Miss Katie Martin. The rooms were beautifully decorated with flags and bunting, while portraits were visible of the men in whose honor the exercises were given. The programme consisted of recitations, songs, and other recitations by the children of the old pioneers.

At Lincoln the exercises were given by the pupils in the lower grade. The programme was given by the pupils in the lower grade.

At Lincoln the exercises were given by the pupils in the lower grade. The programme was given by the pupils in the lower grade.

THE JOSEPH STABBING.

One of Carter's Victims Is In a Precarious Condition.

Richfield, Feb. 21.—Pursuant to adjournment, Judge McCarthy opened district court in Richfield today, but in the absence of any business to be transacted, an adjournment was taken to Wednesday, Feb. 23.

Today, county attorney McDonald went to Joseph to look into the case of Clarence Carter, the boy who on Saturday night made a shooting among the cattle of the Grand Trunk railway. It is understood that the Canadian Pacific road is now materially cutting passenger rates, not only between New England and Manitoba, but to St. Paul and the Pacific coast. That is to say, the intelligence is now officially before the interstate commission. It has been common property for some time that the interstate commerce commission has suspended the operation of the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act in favor of railroad lines in the United States in competition with the Canadian Pacific road, as to passenger business between points in the province of Manitoba and contiguous territory and points upon the Detroit river and St. Clair river and easterly thereof, in the Dominion of Canada, and in that portion of the New England states reaching directly on the route of the Grand Trunk railway. It is understood that the Canadian Pacific road is now materially cutting passenger rates, not only between New England and Manitoba, but to St. Paul and the Pacific coast. That is to say, the intelligence is now officially before the interstate commission. It has been common property for some time that the interstate commerce commission has suspended the operation of the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act in favor of railroad lines in the United States in competition with the Canadian Pacific road, as to passenger business between points in the province of Manitoba and contiguous territory and points upon the Detroit river and St. Clair river and easterly thereof, in the Dominion of Canada, and in that portion of the New England states reaching directly on the route of the Grand Trunk railway. It is understood that the Canadian Pacific road is now materially cutting passenger rates, not only between New England and Manitoba, but to St. Paul and the Pacific coast. That is to say, the intelligence is now officially before the interstate commission. It has been common property for some time that the interstate commerce commission has suspended the operation of the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act in favor of railroad lines in the United States in competition with the Canadian Pacific road, as to passenger business between points in the province of Manitoba and contiguous territory and points upon the Detroit river and St. Clair river and easterly thereof, in the Dominion of Canada, and in that portion of the New England states reaching directly on the route of the Grand Trunk railway. It is understood that the Canadian Pacific road is now materially cutting passenger rates, not only between New England and Manitoba, but to St. Paul and the Pacific coast. That is to say, the intelligence is now officially before the interstate commission. It has been common property for some time that the interstate commerce commission has suspended the operation of the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act in favor of railroad lines in the United States in competition with the Canadian Pacific road, as to passenger business between points in the province of Manitoba and contiguous territory and points upon the Detroit river and St. Clair river and easterly thereof, in the Dominion of Canada, and in that portion of the New England states reaching directly on the route of the Grand Trunk railway. It is understood that the Canadian Pacific road is now materially cutting passenger rates, not only between New England and Manitoba, but to St. Paul and the Pacific coast. That is to say, the intelligence is now officially before the interstate commission. It has been common property for some time that the interstate commerce commission has suspended the operation of the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act in favor of railroad lines in the United States in competition with the Canadian Pacific road, as to passenger business between points in the province of Manitoba and contiguous territory and points upon the Detroit river and St. Clair river and easterly thereof, in the Dominion of Canada, and in that portion of the New England states reaching directly on the route of the Grand Trunk railway. It is understood that the Canadian Pacific road is now materially cutting passenger rates, not only between New England and Manitoba, but to St. Paul and the Pacific coast. That is to say, the intelligence is now officially before the interstate commission. It has been common property for some time that the interstate commerce commission has suspended the operation of the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act in favor of railroad lines in the United States in competition with the Canadian Pacific road, as to passenger business between points in the province of Manitoba and contiguous territory and points upon the Detroit river and St. Clair river and easterly thereof, in the Dominion of Canada, and in that portion of the New England states reaching directly on the route of the Grand Trunk railway. It is understood that the Canadian Pacific road is now materially cutting passenger rates, not only between New England and Manitoba, but to St. Paul and the Pacific coast. That is to say, the intelligence is now officially before the interstate commission. It has been common property for some time that the interstate commerce commission has suspended the operation of the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act in favor of railroad lines in the United States in competition with the Canadian Pacific road, as to passenger business between points in the province of Manitoba and contiguous territory and points upon the Detroit river and St. Clair river and easterly thereof, in the Dominion of Canada, and in that portion of the New England states reaching directly on the route of the Grand Trunk railway. It is understood that the Canadian Pacific road is now materially cutting passenger rates, not only between New England and Manitoba, but to St. Paul and the Pacific coast. That is to say, the intelligence is now officially before the interstate commission. It has been common property for some time that the interstate commerce commission has suspended the operation of the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act in favor of railroad lines in the United States in competition with the Canadian Pacific road, as to passenger business between points in the province of Manitoba and contiguous territory and points upon the Detroit river and St. Clair river and easterly thereof, in the Dominion of Canada, and in that portion of the New England states reaching directly on the route of the Grand Trunk railway. It is understood that the Canadian Pacific road is now materially cutting passenger rates, not only between New England and Manitoba, but to St. Paul and the Pacific coast. That is to say, the intelligence is now officially before the interstate commission. It has been common property for some time that the interstate commerce commission has suspended the operation of the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act in favor of railroad lines in the United States in competition with the Canadian Pacific road, as to passenger business between points in the province of Manitoba and contiguous territory and points upon the Detroit river and St. Clair river and easterly thereof, in the Dominion of Canada, and in that portion of the New England states reaching directly on the route of the Grand Trunk railway. It is understood that the Canadian Pacific road is now materially cutting passenger rates, not only between New England and Manitoba, but to St. Paul and the Pacific coast. That is to say, the intelligence is now officially before the interstate commission. It has been common property for some time that the interstate commerce commission has suspended the operation of the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act in favor of railroad lines in the United States in competition with the Canadian Pacific road, as to passenger business between points in the province of Manitoba and contiguous territory and points upon the Detroit river and St. Clair river and easterly thereof, in the Dominion of Canada, and in that portion of the New England states reaching directly on the route of the Grand Trunk railway. It is understood that the Canadian Pacific road is now materially cutting passenger rates, not only between New England and Manitoba, but to St. Paul and the Pacific coast. That is to say, the intelligence is now officially before the interstate commission. It has been common property for some time that the interstate commerce commission has suspended the operation of the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act in favor of railroad lines in the United States in competition with the Canadian Pacific road, as to passenger business between points in the province of Manitoba and contiguous territory and points upon the Detroit river and St. Clair river and easterly thereof, in the Dominion of Canada, and in that portion of the New England states reaching directly on the route of the Grand Trunk railway. It is understood that the Canadian Pacific road is now materially cutting passenger rates, not only between New England and Manitoba, but to St. Paul and the Pacific coast. That is to say, the intelligence is now officially before the interstate commission. It has been common property for some time that the interstate commerce commission has suspended the operation of the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act in favor of railroad lines in the United States in competition with the Canadian Pacific road, as to passenger business between points in the province of Manitoba and contiguous territory and points upon the Detroit river and St. Clair river and easterly thereof, in the Dominion of Canada, and in that portion of the New England states reaching directly on the route of the Grand Trunk railway. It is understood that the Canadian Pacific road is now materially cutting passenger rates, not only between New England and Manitoba, but to St. Paul and the Pacific coast. That is to say, the intelligence is now officially before the interstate commission. It has been common property for some time that the interstate commerce commission has suspended the operation of the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act in favor of railroad lines in the United States in competition with the Canadian Pacific road, as to passenger business between points in the province of Manitoba and contiguous territory and points upon the Detroit river and St. Clair river and easterly thereof, in the Dominion of Canada, and in that portion of the New England states reaching directly on the route of the Grand Trunk railway. It is understood that the Canadian Pacific road is now materially cutting passenger rates, not only between New England and Manitoba, but to St. Paul and the Pacific coast. That is to say, the intelligence is now officially before the interstate commission. It has been common property for some time that the interstate commerce commission has suspended the operation of the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act in favor of railroad lines in the United States in competition with the Canadian Pacific road, as to passenger business between points in the province of Manitoba and contiguous territory and points upon the Detroit river and St. Clair river and easterly thereof, in the Dominion of Canada, and in that portion of the New England states reaching directly on the route of the Grand Trunk railway. It is understood that the Canadian Pacific road is now materially cutting passenger rates, not only between New England and Manitoba, but to St. Paul and the Pacific coast. That is to say, the intelligence is now officially before the interstate commission. It has been common property for some time that the interstate commerce commission has suspended the operation of the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act in favor of railroad lines in the United States in competition with the Canadian Pacific road, as to passenger business between points in the province of Manitoba and contiguous territory and points upon the Detroit river and St. Clair river and easterly thereof, in the Dominion of Canada, and in that portion of the New England states reaching directly on the route of the Grand Trunk railway. It is understood that the Canadian Pacific road is now materially cutting passenger rates, not only between New England and Manitoba, but to St. Paul and the Pacific coast. That is to say, the intelligence is now officially before the interstate commission. It has been common property for some time that the interstate commerce commission has suspended the operation of the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act in favor of railroad lines in the United States in competition with the Canadian Pacific road, as to passenger business between points in the province of Manitoba and contiguous territory and points upon the Detroit river and St. Clair river and easterly thereof, in the Dominion of Canada, and in that portion of the New England states reaching directly on the route of the Grand Trunk railway. It is understood that the Canadian Pacific road is now materially cutting passenger rates, not only between New England and Manitoba, but to St. Paul and the Pacific coast. That is to say, the intelligence is now officially before the interstate commission. It has been common property for some time that the interstate commerce commission has suspended the operation of the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act in favor of railroad lines in the United States in competition with the Canadian Pacific road, as to passenger business between points in the province of Manitoba and contiguous territory and points upon the Detroit river and St. Clair river and easterly thereof, in the Dominion of Canada, and in that portion of the New England states reaching directly on the route of the Grand Trunk railway. It is understood that the Canadian Pacific road is now materially cutting passenger rates, not only between New England and Manitoba, but to St. Paul and the Pacific coast. That is to say, the intelligence is now officially before the interstate commission. It has been common property for some time that the interstate commerce commission has suspended the operation of the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act in favor of railroad lines in the United States in competition with the Canadian Pacific road, as to passenger business between points in the province of Manitoba and contiguous territory and points upon the Detroit river and St. Clair river and easterly thereof, in the Dominion of Canada, and in that portion of the New England states reaching directly on the route of the Grand Trunk railway. It is understood that the Canadian Pacific road is now materially cutting passenger rates, not only between New England and Manitoba, but to St. Paul and the Pacific coast. That is to say, the intelligence is now officially before the interstate commission. It has been common property for some time that the interstate commerce commission has suspended the operation of the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act in favor of railroad lines in the United States in competition with the Canadian Pacific road, as to passenger business between points in the province of Manitoba and contiguous territory and points upon the Detroit river and St. Clair river and easterly thereof, in the Dominion of Canada, and in that portion of the New England states reaching directly on the route of the Grand Trunk railway. It is understood that the Canadian Pacific road is now materially cutting passenger rates, not only between New England and Manitoba, but to St. Paul and the Pacific coast. That is to say, the intelligence is now officially before the interstate commission. It has been common property for some time that the interstate commerce commission has suspended the operation of the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act in favor of railroad lines in the United States in competition with the Canadian Pacific road, as to passenger business between points in the province of Manitoba and contiguous territory and points upon the Detroit river and St. Clair river and easterly thereof, in the Dominion of Canada, and in that portion of the New England states reaching directly on the route of the Grand Trunk railway. It is understood that the Canadian Pacific road is now materially cutting passenger rates, not only between New England and Manitoba, but to St. Paul and the Pacific coast. That is to say, the intelligence is now officially before the interstate commission. It has been common property for some time that the interstate commerce commission has suspended the operation of the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act in favor of railroad lines in the United States in competition with the Canadian Pacific road, as to passenger business between points in the province of Manitoba and contiguous territory and points upon the Detroit river and St. Clair river and easterly thereof, in the Dominion of Canada, and in that portion of the New England states reaching directly on the route of the Grand Trunk railway. It is understood that the Canadian Pacific road is now materially cutting passenger rates, not only between New England and Manitoba, but to St. Paul and the Pacific coast. That is to say, the intelligence is now officially before the interstate commission. It has been common property for some time that the interstate commerce commission has suspended the operation of the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act in favor of railroad lines in the United States in competition with the Canadian Pacific road, as to passenger business between points in the province of Manitoba and contiguous territory and points upon the Detroit river and St. Clair river and easterly thereof, in the Dominion of Canada, and in that portion of the New England states reaching directly on the route of the Grand Trunk railway. It is understood that the Canadian Pacific road is now materially cutting passenger rates, not only between New England and Manitoba, but to St. Paul and the Pacific coast. That is to say, the intelligence is now officially before the interstate commission. It has been common property for some time that the interstate commerce commission has suspended the operation of the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act in favor of railroad lines in the United States in competition with the Canadian Pacific road, as to passenger business between points in the province of Manitoba and contiguous territory and points upon the Detroit river and St. Clair river and easterly thereof, in the Dominion of Canada, and in that portion of the New England states reaching directly on the route of the Grand Trunk railway. It is understood that the Canadian Pacific road is now materially cutting passenger rates, not only between New England and Manitoba, but to St. Paul and the Pacific coast. That is to say, the intelligence is now officially before the interstate commission. It has been common property for some time that the interstate commerce commission has suspended the operation of the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act in favor of railroad lines in the United States in competition with the Canadian Pacific road, as to passenger business between points in the province of Manitoba and contiguous territory and points upon the Detroit river and St. Clair river and easterly thereof, in the Dominion of Canada, and in that portion of the New England states reaching directly on the route of the Grand Trunk railway. It is understood that the Canadian Pacific road is now materially cutting passenger rates, not only between New England and Manitoba, but to St. Paul and the Pacific coast. That is to say, the intelligence is now officially before the interstate commission. It has been common property for some time that the interstate commerce commission has suspended the operation of the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act in favor of railroad lines in the United States in competition with the Canadian Pacific road, as to passenger business between points in the province of Manitoba and contiguous territory and points upon the Detroit river and St. Clair river and easterly thereof, in the Dominion of Canada, and in that portion of the New England states reaching directly on the route of the Grand Trunk railway. It is understood that the Canadian Pacific road is now materially cutting passenger rates, not only between New England and Manitoba, but to St. Paul and the Pacific coast. That is to say, the intelligence is now officially before the interstate commission. It has been common property for some time that the interstate commerce commission has suspended the operation of the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act in favor of railroad lines in the United States in competition with the Canadian Pacific road, as to passenger business between points in the province of Manitoba and contiguous territory and points upon the Detroit river and St. Clair river and easterly thereof, in the Dominion of Canada, and in that portion of the New England states reaching directly on the route of the Grand Trunk railway. It is understood that the Canadian Pacific road is now materially cutting passenger rates, not only between New England and Manitoba, but to St. Paul and the Pacific coast. That is to say, the intelligence is now officially before the interstate commission. It has been common property for some time that the interstate commerce commission has suspended the operation of the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act in favor of railroad lines in the United States in competition with the Canadian Pacific road, as to passenger business between points in the province of Manitoba and contiguous territory and points upon the Detroit river and St. Clair river and easterly thereof, in the Dominion of Canada, and in that portion of the New England states reaching directly on the route of the Grand Trunk railway. It is understood that the Canadian Pacific road is now materially cutting passenger rates, not only between New England and Manitoba, but to St. Paul and